The College of Pharmacy, Rady Faculty of Health Sciences (RFHS), University of Manitoba, Canada invites applications for a full-time probationary position at the rank of Instructor I, II or Senior Instructor, commencing June 1, 2026 or at a time to be negotiated. In accordance with the University of Manitoba Faculty Association collective agreement, there may be opportunity for a continuing appointment upon successful completion of the probationary period. Salary and rank will be commensurate with experience and qualifications, and in accordance with the University of Manitoba Faculty Association collective agreement.

Major responsibilities for the position will be to contribute to teaching and service in the College of Pharmacy and the University of Manitoba. Activities will include teaching and assessment in Pharmacy practice courses, such as the applied pharmacy practice labs and clinical courses with duties involving, but not limited to, course coordination, delivering lectures, developing patient cases, teaching and evaluating students in performance-based and simulation lab environments, and supporting teaching and assessment in Inter-Professional Education activities. The successful candidate may also support the development and delivery of the micro-certificate program for practicing pharmacists. The position will also participate on College committees and represent the College on relevant University and professional committees and associations.

The successful candidate will possess a PharmD or BSc (Pharm) degree, with relevant advanced practice experience; advanced degrees (e.g. Master's, PhD) will be considered an asset. Preference will be given to applicants with experience in innovative practices in community, primary care, ambulatory care, or hospital pharmacy. Excellent organizational, communication, and interpersonal skills for productive teamwork are required for this position. In-person teaching experience is preferred, and the ability to teach in a virtual online environment is an asset. The successful candidate must maintain an active pharmacy license and be eligible to practice in Manitoba.

(where applicable) for systemically marginalized groups who have been excluded from full participation at the University and the larger community including Indigenous Peoples, Black, racially marginalized communities, disabled persons and those who identify as 2SLGBTQIA+ (Two Spirit, lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans, questioning, intersex, asexual and other diverse sexual identities).

An inclusive, open and diverse community is essential to excellence and fosters voices that have been ignored or discouraged. To address the Rady Faculty of Health Sciences commitment to equity, access and participation, and in recognition of the underrepresentation of members of historically and currently excluded groups, we take proactive measures including implicit bias training for all hiring panels. We strive for diversity and cultural safety throughout the hiring process (hiring panels, short-list of candidates, interviews). The University acknowledges the potential impact that Career Interruptions and Personal Circumstances can have on an applicant's record of research achievement. Measures will be taken to ensure that these leaves will be taken into careful consideration during the evaluation process.

We encourage you to self-identity aspects of your identity that position you to bring currently under-represented viewpoints, expertise and forms of excellence to this role.

Please include the following as part of your application: a letter of application explaining your interest in the position, an up-to-date curriculum vitae, a brief teaching philosophy, a personal statement on your contributions to equity, diversity and inclusion in teaching, service and/or other experiences, and contact information for three references.
